

Aidan Coghlan

Associate

I am an associate in Fox Williams' financial services team. I am a technically adept and commercially astute financial regulatory lawyer with a deep interest in all aspects of the financial system.

Aidan advises on a wide range of non-contentious and contentious financial regulatory matters, ranging from Brexit contingency planning to the impact of adding further financial instruments to an FCA regulated firm's existing regulatory permission.

Aidan joined Fox Williams in 2019. He entered the legal profession after a previous career as a stock market analyst covering the equities of Asian financial sector institutions.

He speaks conversational Japanese.

Legal Expertise

- Financial Regulation
- Contentious Financial Regulation

Experience

- Advised an FCA-regulated firm on the regulatory implications of the acquisition of a multilateral trading facility.
- Advised a challenger bank on the legal dimensions of its strategy in the market for deposits.
- Advised on the impact of adding further specified investments to an FCA-regulated firm's Part 4A permission.
- Advised a range of firms on the application and impact of the Senior Managers and Certification Regime (SMCR).

- Advised an insurance company on the compliance of its appointed representative agreements with applicable law.