

Bhavin Bhatt

Associate

I am an associate in Fox Williams' fintech & alternative finance teams, advising incumbents and disruptors in the fintech industry on mainstream debt transactions and innovative financial products.

Bhavin advises banks, non-bank lenders, debt funds and lending platforms on debt transactions and various regulated and unregulated financial products, including traditional secured lending, real estate and development finance, asset-based lending, receivables financing, asset finance, trade financing and other structured debt products.

Prior to joining Fox Williams, Bhavin was general counsel for a fintech start-up in London, after having trained and qualified in the banking and finance practice at Clifford Chance LLP. Whilst at Clifford Chance, Bhavin also spent time inhouse at JPMorgan in its investment banking division.
