

Charlotte Eliasson

Senior Associate

I am a senior associate in Fox Williams' financial services and fintech teams.

Charlotte specialises in finance and fintech matters, advising a broad range of clients at various stages of business, from start-ups through to large financial institutions and acting for borrowers and lenders alike.

She gained experience in-house as director of legal to the regulated UK arm of a global financial services group. She worked primarily with the asset management business line, a leader in the infrastructure debt space.

Charlotte trained and qualified into the corporate team at Fox Williams in 2014. She returned to Fox Williams after having spent nearly 3 years in-house in financial services.
