

Chris Tanoh

Associate

I am an associate in Fox Williams' financial services team. I advise on a range of contentious and non-contentious regulatory issues.

Chris joined the Fox Williams dispute resolution team in October 2017, where he practices as an Associate. He specialises in both contentious and non-contentious financial services regulatory issues and supports our clients with regulatory compliance matters.

Chris also has experience in complex antitrust litigation, having acted for both claimants and defendants in disputes arising out of contested decisions of European regulators.
