

Claire Bowler

Trainee Solicitor

I am a trainee solicitor at Fox Williams currently sitting in the commerce and technology team.

Claire joined the firm in March 2021 and is currently sitting in the commerce and technology team, having completed her seats in the dispute resolution (commercial litigation and international arbitration) and corporate teams.

Prior to joining Fox Williams, Claire worked at LexisNexis on the legal guidance product LexisPSL researching and writing content on areas from intellectual property to energy law.