

Jonathan Halliwell

Head of Office and Building Services

I am the head of office and building services at Fox Williams'. I am responsible for ensuring that the building and its services meets the needs of the staff and clients of Fox Williams.

Jonathan brings a very broad range of skills and practical experience to Fox Williams which covers all aspects of office and facilities management. He has over 30 years' experience within the legal profession.

Jonathan manages the day-to-day activities of his service teams, who are responsible for matters such as front of house, office administration, document management, maintenance and catering, and in doing so ensures the efficient functioning and operation of our office.