

Joseph Cannon

Trainee Solicitor

I am a trainee solicitor at Fox Williams currently sitting in the firm's real estate team.

Joseph joined Fox Williams in March 2022 and is currently completing his second seat in the employment team having completed his first in real estate.

Prior to joining the firm, Joseph completed his undergraduate Law degree at the University of York before going on to attain a Distinction in his LPC and LLM from BPP University (Birmingham). Joseph then began his legal career working as a paralegal at a multinational law firm, gaining experience on banking transactions and in derivatives.

In his previous employment, Joseph worked on a large-scale due diligence exercise for an international banking corporation ahead of the IBOR transition.
