

Nicole Wong

Associate

I am an associate in Fox Williams' dispute resolution team, specialising in financial services regulation.

Nicole advises on a range of UK and EU regulatory matters, including regulatory processes such as authorisation and change in control applications, and has a particular interest in FinTech regulation and regulatory investigations. She has previously advised a number of digital disrupter banks and other FinTechs on payments and other regulatory perimeter issues, and on the drafting of various terms and conditions. She also has experience with internal investigations, as well as regulatory investigations involving the Serious Fraud Office and the London Metal Exchange.

Nicole joined Fox Williams LLP in September 2019 from Fieldfisher LLP.

Legal Expertise

- Financial services regulatory
- FinTechs and technology
- Regulatory investigations

Experience

- Conducted regulatory perimeter analysis in relation to payments and e-money.
- Drafted a full suite of documentation for a B2B fintech which offers a range of payment services.
- Advised on mobile app advertisements in light of the financial promotion rules.