

Stephanie Tsang

Associate

I am an associate in Fox Williams' corporate team, advising on a range of domestic and cross-border private M&A transactions, venture capital investments and other corporate matters.

Stephanie has experience advising on a range of corporate matters with a particular focus on private company M&A, including domestic and cross-border transactions. Stephanie also has experience advising on venture capital investments and general corporate advisory matters such as constitutional documents and shareholders' agreements.

Prior to joining Fox Williams as an associate in May 2021, Stephanie trained and qualified at an American-headquartered international law firm based in London.
