

Tina Williams

Strategic Consultant

I am a strategic consultant in Fox Williams' corporate team. I assist corporates and professional practices with strategic issues such as mergers, structuring and regulatory matters and individual partners with a variety of partnership issues.

Tina is one of the UK's leading contentious and non-contentious partnership and limited liability partnership experts, acting for all types of businesses in the professional and financial services sectors.

She advises on establishment, structuring, partnership documentation, management and remuneration issues, mergers and other types of combinations and affiliations, regulation, partner and team moves, discrimination, administration and dissolution. She frequently works on international transactions and has represented many of the US law firms that have established an EU presence. She also advises individual partners on issues such as exits, team moves and discrimination and bullying claims.

She is also a hugely experienced corporate lawyer, specialising in cross-border M&A.

Tina was Senior Partner of Fox Williams from 2005 to 2013, when she became Chair of the firm with a special focus on international business. She speaks French and Spanish.

She has had articles and comments published in leading industry magazines and has spoken widely on topical partnership issues.
